Introduce two services under one promise

The BuildOn website pairs audit and asset management in a single homepage with separate service paths.

Separate the proposition from the principles

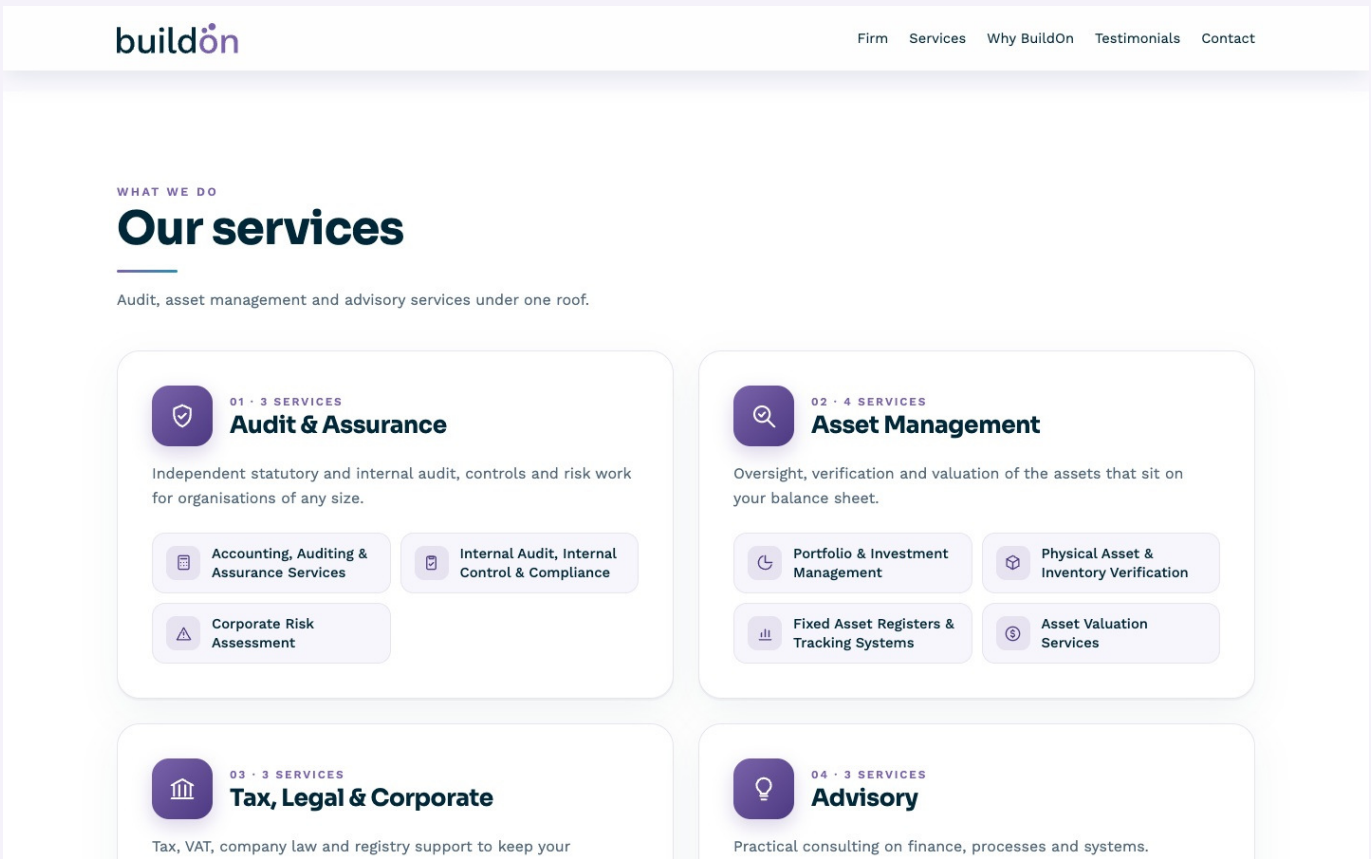

An introductory section presents the firm's approach. Smaller numbered cards break out the principles that sit behind it.

ORIGINAL ABOUT SECTION

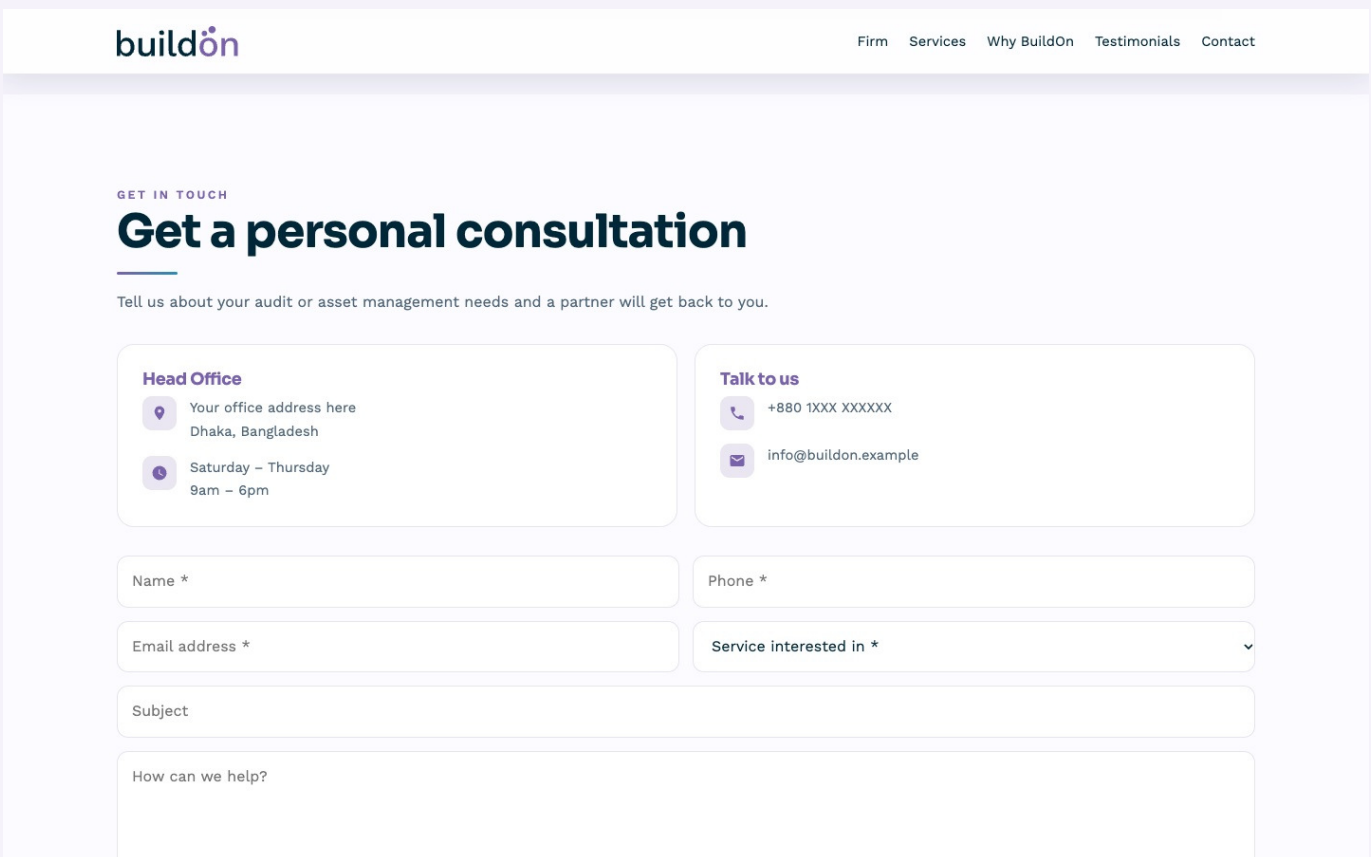

Give each service room to explain itself

The services section places audit and asset management in parallel, with short entries for each offering.

Bring a consultation within reach

The contact section places office information and a form in separate columns so visitors can choose how to get in touch.

ORIGINAL CONSULTATION SECTION

Connect the unconnected.
